

Berentzen-Gruppe (BEZ GY) | Consumer Goods

October 26, 2020

Q3 figures highlight relative resilience vs. other beverage companies

We confirm our Buy recommendation: Overall, the third quarter was even slightly better than expected by us. Sales in Q3 declined by 5% y-o-y which is fairly moderate in our view especially compared to other (global) beverage companies (e.g. Coca-Cola sales declined by 10% in Q3/20). This is also partly due to the fact that BEZ only generates ~15% of its sales with on-trade business. In this context, we like to highlight the performance in the spirits segment in particular - sales even increased by ~6% despite the absence of numerous celebrations due to Covid-19 driven by a good performance of the export and private-label business. As expected, the fresh juice systems segment is still hit hardest by Covid-19 (Q3/20 sales: -19% y-o-y) given the strong hesitation to invest into orange juicers at the moment. Profitability in Q3 remained clearly positive (EBITDA margin: 9.6%) and benefited from the implemented cost measures (e.g. reduced marketing activities and short-time work). Overall, the results show that the business model is relatively resilient. Although the fourth quarter should remain challenging, we believe Berentzen is well underway to reach its FY 2020 guidance.

Changes in estimates: We keep our estimates virtually unchanged

Valuation: We continue to value Berentzen shares based on our DCF valuation. We believe the current valuation level (~3x EBITDA) is attractive especially given the relatively high resilience of the business model compared to other beverage companies

Our investment case in a nutshell

Investment case remains unchanged

- (1) 2020 affected by Covid-19 but general growth story intact: Following a strong FY 2019, FY 2020 will clearly be characterized by declining sales driven by the impact of Covid-19. Covid-19 should in our view in particular affect the fresh juice systems segment given that restaurants and hotels are closed and food retailers not willing to invest in fruit juicers at the moment. However, the sales situation should improve again after a stabilization with regard to Covid-19. We also believe that Berentzen should then be able to accelerate growth momentum again in FY 2021 (Note: excl. the impact of the recently discontinued contract bottling business). This growth should, in our view, be driven by all segments. One main driver for the growth should in our view be the Mio Mio brand. Mio Mio is a brand of refreshing soft drinks offered in seven flavours. The most popular is Mio Mio Mate, which is a caffeinated mate-extracted beverage. With annual sales volume growth of above 50% over the last four years, the brand is clearly the highlight of the Berentzen product portfolio in our view. We believe that Mio Mio is still at the beginning of its success story.
- (2) Room for margin improvements in all segments: As the topline, also the profitability will suffer from the impact of Covid-19, mainly lower gross margins. However, in the mid- to long term, we see in particular room for margin improvement in the fresh-juice system segment. In the past, the company faced problems with regard to the harvesting of oranges which the company sells its customers in addition to the juicers. Crop failures in FY 2018 led to significantly higher prices for the juice oranges which Berentzen did not want to pass on to its customers - this resulted in falling gross margins. In the meantime, the company has optimized and also broadened its supplier network for oranges and should in our view now be able to better absorb possible (future) crop failures. Margins in the non-alcoholic beverages segment should also increase following the discontinuation of the contract bottling business.
- (3) Solid balance sheet and attractive dividends: In our view, Berentzen has a very solid balance sheet, especially following the repayment of the bond in October FY 2017 leading to annual interest savings of more than EUR 2m. Based on the solid balance sheet structure, the company is able to pay attractive dividend streams to its shareholders even in challenging times with uncertainties around Covid-19. The company's dividend policy is to pay out at least 50% of its net income.
- (4) Mio Mio already worth >EUR 4 per share: We determined a fair value of the Mio Mio brand, which is a clear highlight of Berentzen's product portfolio. The acquisition of Fever-Tree in FY 2012 for ~6x Sales served as a starting point of our analysis. Fever-Tree is a popular producer of drink mixers in particular Tonic Water. While both, Mio Mio and Fever-Tree have a similar growth profile, we value Mio Mio based on a 10% discount given its stronger regional focus. Adjusting the transaction multiple for this discount, we value Mio Mio based on an EV/Sales multiple of ~5x.

company note

Well underway to reach the FY 2020 guidance despite a challenging Q4 ahead

Improved performance in Q3/20

- Sales in Q3/20 declined by ~5% which is moderate in our view compared to other beverage companies also driven by the fact that Berentzen only generates 15% of sales with on-trade business
- Positive was clearly the performance in the spirits segment: Sales increased by ~6% also driven by a strong performance again in the private label business which confirms our view that Berentzen remains very well positioned in this attractive & growing market segment
- Sales in the non-alcoholic beverages segment fell by 15% mainly driven by declining unit sales of the franchise business with the beverages of the Sinalco Group. Within the segment, Mio Mio clearly remains the highlight - unit sales increased by 12% in the first nine months of the year
- As expected, the segment fresh juice system remains the most negatively affected segment with a sales decline of 19% in Q3/20 as many hotels and restaurants were closed and food retailers not willing to invest in fruit juicers at the moment
- The profitability remained clearly positive despite the sales decline - the EBITDA margin came in at 9.6%, hence, better than in the previous two quarters and shows that the implemented cost measures (e.g. reduced marketing activities, short-time work) are showing an impact

Review of Q3/20 financials - well underway to reach the FY 2020 guidance

Source: Metzler Research, company data

- Q4 should become very challenging - there are great uncertainties due to the again increasing number of Covid-19 cases and possible lockdown measures. What is certain, however, is that many celebrations will not take place as usual in the fourth quarter which is usually the strongest quarter of Berentzen. This should have a significant negative impact on financials
- However, we see Berentzen on a good way to reach the guidance for the current year - e.g. the lower end of the sales guidance implies a 15% y-o-y decline in sales, which seems too pessimistic also in view of the better than expected Q3 figures

Irrespective of the valuation principles and methods used and the assumptions on which they are based, there is always a risk that a particular price target is not achieved or that the assumptions and forecasts prove inaccurate. This can, for instance, be the result of unexpected changes in demand, management, technology, economic or political developments, interest rates, costs, the competitive situation, the legal situation and other factors. Investments in foreign markets and instruments are subject to additional risks, as a result of changes in exchange rates or in the economic, political or social situation, for instance. This outline of risks makes no claim to be exhaustive.
